

Experience Bluemont Introduces The Cottages at Bluemont

Expansion of brand into overnight accommodations drives immersive Bluemont Experience

Bluemont Vineyard in collaboration with Henway Hard Cider, Dirt Farm Brewing and Great Country Farms has expanded their footprint in Bluemont, Virginia, with the addition of three individual cottages, breaking into accommodations and lodging within the hospitality market of Loudoun County. The Bluemont experience expands with the addition of the artfully restored and renovated historic farm properties that have catapulted Bluemont into a prominent Western Loudoun and Virginia destination.

Located 45 miles beyond Washington, DC, in Bluemont, Virginia, The Cottages at Bluemont are privately nestled among the vines of Bluemont Vineyard and orchards of Great Country Farms. Guests will enjoy quick walks and drives around the property to visit Dirt Farm Brewing, Henway Hard Cider and Great Country Farms Market, Bakery and Pick-Your-Own experiences. Off property activities can be found in all directions, including tubing on the Shenandoah River, hiking the Appalachian Trail, and hitting the town for unique shopping and dining experiences in the charming Bluemont village, and historic towns of Leesburg and Middleburg. After a full day of exploration, the mountainside provides endless serenity.

Inspired by the brand's affinity for sharing the true farm experience with their guests, the expansion of The Cottages will enable guests to lengthen their stay and immerse themselves into the working family farm of Bluemont. Whether cuddling baby goats in the springtime at Great Country Farms, harvesting Pick-Your-Own produce all summer long, barrel stomping grapes at Bluemont Vineyard in celebration of the annual "Crush with Us" event, or experiencing the majesty of the mountainside during the annual Lighting of the Vines holiday light illumination celebration, The Cottages will enable guests to discover the inner farmer that lies within us all and partake in the true Bluemont experience.

The three cottages, The Stone Cottage, The Blue Door Cottage and The Brewer's Cottage, all differing in size and amenities, provide guests with unique options when booking their stay. The studio Stone Cottage is the perfect location for guests looking to escape for a quaint and romantic experience, and enjoy unforgettable sunrise views across the Shenandoah Valley. The Blue Door Cottage is a three-bedroom, pet friendly, original log cabin built in the 1800s, perfect for group or family getaways. The Brewer's Cottage, built in the 1940s as a Bluemont residence, is located footsteps away from the tap room at Dirt Farm Brewing. This two-bedroom, pet friendly accommodation is perfect for those looking to travel with their furry best friend and take in the craft beer scene.

The Cottages are available for visitors and guests of Bluemont properties to enjoy February 2021 onward.
